Frequently Asked Questions

What happens when my extended evaluation expires?

After the extended evaluation period ends, you are not able to run the product in evaluation mode. However, you can purchase and activate the release version of the product. If you decide not to purchase the product, you may uninstall the evaluation version.

Can I extend my evaluation period multiple times?

No. You can extend your evaluation period only once per product.

If I install the evaluation version of my software and decide to purchase the product, do I need to uninstall the evaluation version?

No. By activating, you unlock the release version of the software. Simply activate and use the software. You do not need to uninstall, reinstall, or install any new software.

Extension is for 45 days - enough to finish the Project.
